

A screenshot of a web application window titled "Driver Login". The window has a grey header bar with three circular window control buttons on the left and a close button on the right. In the center of the header bar is a tabbed interface with three tabs: "Intake", "Deliver", and "Upload". The "Deliver" tab is currently selected. The main content area is light grey and contains the title "Driver Login" in blue text. Below the title are two input fields: "Username:" and "Password:". The "Password:" field is masked with white dots. A "Login" button is positioned to the right of the password field. The window has a grey footer bar with a small icon in the bottom right corner.
